I understand that by submitting this form, my name and the information I have provided above will be entered in Madison County's Emergency Alert System. I understand this system is not intended, nor should I rely solely upon it, to be my primary source for emergency alerts. We can make no guarantee that every person will receive an alert in every situation since phone lines may be down, cell phones may be turned off, Internet access may be interrupted, etc. The emergency alert system, even when functioning at peak performance, should only be regarded as a supplemental means of notification. All Madison County residents are encouraged to monitor local television and radio stations, to purchase a NOAA weather radio, and always be aware of their surroundings and weather conditions.
